POCKET DOLLAR-EMPHASIZED IN FAULKNER TALK

Alabama's farmers need and must have immediate financial assistance and if he is elected governor in the May 6 Democratic primary, he will set into motion a plan to bring more pocket dollars to these farmers.

This is what Jimmy Faulkner, Bay Minute newspaper publisher and runner-up to Gov. E. Folsom in 1954, promised as he brought his campaign for governor to Elba Wednesday night last week.

With Faulkner and singing gospel songs was the Statesmen Quartet.

"Our farmers must have more pocket dollars immediately," the former state senator from Baldwin, Monroe and Escambia Counties declared. "Through my Farm Aid - Reach - Marketing (FARM) program, they will get these pocket dollars," Faulkner stated.

"I will give full support of the governor's office to all banks and farm lending agencies in the development of a long term, flexible loan program to cover the needs of our farmers," he added.

"I will use every power available, as governor, to aid and assist our senators and congressmen to obtain a just share of cotton acreage for Alabama farmers," he commented, adding that new industries must be established in every rural community to provide extra employment and more pocket dollars for our farm people.

"Expanding research will promote the development of new cash crops and improved livestock and poultry, including more efficient methods of farm production for greater profit. More markets for Alabama products will be developed in cooperation with agricultural agencies in a nation-wide advertising and marketing program, which will mean more pocket dollars for our farmers," Faulkner declared.

Faulkner also promised to improve the educational standard in Alabama, thereby making it possible for other hundreds of persons to gain more pocket dollars.

"I pledge my full support to a definite program that will give our boys and girls greater opportunities to receive education for all Alabama schools and colleges, and Auburn will be the very first," he pledged.

The Ninth District Conference of the Auxiliary will include units from Abbeville, Elba, Enterprise, Geneva, Hartford, Headland, Ozark and Troy. The state president, Mrs. Billie Ernest, of Mobile and other department officials will be guests.

The Conference will be preceded by a luncheon at Padgett's Dining Hall at which the luncheon speaker will be Mrs. Will Kendrick. Her subject will be "What the American Legion Auxiliary Has Meant to Elba."

MORE CASH FOR SOIL BANK IS NOW AVAILABLE

Supplemental funds to provide payment to an estimated 35,000 cotton farmers in Alabama, in addition to $1,000 already approved this year, were made available last week. It was announced by Chairman B. L. Collins of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

An additional $15,323,000 was made available for that purpose. Another $2,619,000 was made available for corn farmers in 17 commercial corn-producing counties, and an extra $21,000 was provided for tobacco growers.

Collins said the money will be used to pay farmers who had signed for soil bank payments before the Feb. 29 deadline on cotton and corn and the March 7 time limit for tobacco.

EMPLOYMENT DOWN

Montgomery - Non-farm employment in Alabama, at 719,000 in February, was down 9,100 from January, Arthur D. Kelly, Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, announced today. Decreases were noted in almost all employment divisions. Some were seasonal, while others reflected lagging business activity.

The February level was 15,900 lower than a year ago.

FRIDAY COMMUNION

Communion service will be held at the Elba Methodist Church Friday from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. in charge of the pastor, Rev. Ralph R. Hendricks, with communicants invited to come and go as they desire. Communion will not be served Easter Sunday.

CUT IN GUARD STRENGTH HIT BY LEGION HERE

A resolution was adopted at a recent meeting of Culver Post, No. 42, American Legion, addressed to the Alabama delegation in Congress, to the Secretary of Defense and the President of the United States, urging that the National Guard be retained at its present strength or strengthened.

The resolution recites that the National Guard of the United States "has been an integral part of the defense mechanism," has played an important part in World Wars I and II and the Korean Conflict and now maintains site installations "which fit into the overall defense of our country," but continues that "it has come to our attention via newspaper, television, radio, and other means of communication that the Defense Department contemplates reducing the strength and overall effectiveness."

The resolution directed the Post Adjutant to send a copy to members of the Alabama delegation in Congress, the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Army, Secretary of the Air Force, and to President Eisenhower.

Good Pastures Get More Pork Output

AUBURN - Alabama hog raisers can turn the grazing pasture into profitable acres.

Many hog growers aren't as sold on good pastures for sows as they should be, says G. B. Phillips, API Extension animal industry specialist. This is probably because they don't have very good pastures for their animals in the first place.

"There are several advantages to having good pastures when late spring and fall pigs are fattened and reach the grower - finishing stage," Phillips pointed out.

One-Time Classified Sells Utility Trailer

T. C. Sell, of the Soil Conservation Service, makes it a habit to read Classified. Today he has a utility trailer as a result.

The Classified column last week included a three-line ad from Western Auto Associate Store about a utility trailer for sale. The ad was canceled after the first insertion. Sell had bought it.

FREIGHT REDUCED

President C. C. (Jack) Owen of the Alabama Public Service Commission has announced that the railroads in the South have filed freight tariffs with the Interstate Commerce Commission, which reduce the present rates on lumber by more than 20 percent, effective on May 1.

TODD TO SPEAK HERE TUESDAY IN 5-STOP TOUR

Agriculture Commissioner A. W. Todd brings his campaign for governor to the Elba area Tuesday (April 8) when he begins a five-stop stump tour in the area here at 10 a.m.

Todd, accompanied by Vailly Fowler and the Sons of Song will be making one of his three forays into deep wiregrass territory when he moves from here to Samson at 11:30 a.m., Hartford at 1 p.m., Slossom at 3 p.m. and finishing the day with a rally in Geneva at 7:30 p.m.

The agriculture commissioner has, in previous addresses, called time and again for greater acreage allotments for both cotton and peanut growers, for development of the state's waterways systems, and for continued segregation of schools and other facilities.

He told audiences last week that "we cannot out-litigate the proponents of integration, but we can anticipate the efforts of outside rabble-rousers and prevent them from getting anywhere in Alabama."

He added that "we are people of good will, and people of good will can work out their problems, regardless of what those problems might be. He called upon Alabamians to stand united in their efforts to "maintain our Southern way of life in Alabama."

One of the best ways of doing this, Todd said, is to improve the state's school system to make it equal with any in the nation, "on a separate but equal basis."

Letters No Good To Order Seedlings

AUBURN - To eliminate confusion in acquiring seedlings next year, Agr. Extension Forester Ivan R. Martin this week had these words to say about ordering trees.

Letter orders, he said, are not acceptable. Applications must be made on blanks obtainable from county agents or other cooperating public officials. They should be sent, along with a deposit representing one-half of the total cost of the seedlings, to the State Forester, Division of Forestry, Department of Conservation, 711 High Street, Montgomery.

According to Martin, application blanks should be filled out in triplicate and signed by the landowner or his authorized agent. The white and yellow copies should be mailed to the state forester. The applicant may return the blue copy as a record of the order.

Low Quality Eggs Good For Easter

AUBURN - When it's time Sunday morning to hunt Easter eggs, they won't be concerned with the quality inside the galaxy-scattered shells.

This fact, homemaker, can save you some money. While lower grade eggs carry about the same nutritive value, they lack the delicate flavor of AA and A grade eggs. And since shell appearance is what counts when selecting eggs to color and decorate, the lower grades will do as well and cost less, points out Dorothy Overbey, consumer education specialist with the API Extension Service.

Healthy Herd Key To Dairy Success

AUBURN - Efficient, profitable dairy production is dependent upon a healthy herd. "Yet, despite great strides that have been made in control methods, disease organisms continue to cut production and profits in many dairy herds," reports Extension Dairyman John Parrish.

"The most insidious thieves, those that cause the largest losses, are chronic diseases which slip in unnoticed and slowly eat away a cow's ability to produce efficiently."

FARM HOUSING LOAN PROGRAM IS MADE EASIER

An expanded farm housing loan program designed to speed up farm building construction and improvement as well as act as an additional antirecession measure was announced today by James S. Pridden, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor.

Now an owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the 4 percent long-term housing loan provided that he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly, an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Borrowers may use loan funds to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use. Mr. Pridden said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet other needs for farm and farm home modernizing, such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements to the home as well as to farm service buildings. While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular channels. The interest rate is 4 percent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 35 years.

Further information can be had by contacting the local Farmers Home Administration office at 115 Easy Avenue in Enterprise.

Correction: Sales In County Top 20 Millions

A matter of three zeros make what a whale of a difference. In the story in last week's issue of The Elba Clipper about the increase in Coffee County sales the three zeros made a difference of millions of dollars.

The correct figures are that retail sales of $18,694,000 in 1956 climbed to $20,518,000 in 1957 for Coffee county, an increase of 9.8 percent.

LOCAL BUSINESS

BY C. S. TALBERT
Chairman, Dept. of Journalism University of Miss.

The Marshall Field department store of Chicago ran its first newspaper advertisement in 1857. Since that time, Field's has become one of the most successful retail stores in the world.

After a century of experience the Marshall Field executives still regard local newspaper advertising as a key force in retail sales. In fact, the store placed $2,000,000 worth of advertising in a single newspaper during 1956.

No business could afford to invest two million dollars in advertising without plenty of proof profits would result. The Field company expected the record high advertising expenditure to bring a new record in gross sales. It did.

The problems of advertising do not vary greatly with size. Field's advertising is much the same as the advertising of local stores. It is made up of new information about the latest products on hand. And while selling individual items, Field's advertising helps to maintain the store's personality and identity. All good retail advertising does the same.

Sure, everyone in Chicago knows about Marshall Field and Company. Yet, even after a hundred years, Field's spends more than three million dollars annually on advertising just to make sure that no one forgets about Marshall Field and Company.

Soldiers From Here Meet In Germany

It's a long distance from Elba to Neubuck, Germany, but that's the distance two local men went to have a chance meeting.

Sgt. Harry Hurd, of Jack, wrote recently to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hurd of Jack, "I met a boy the other day and I said, 'Don't I know you?' and he said, 'I guess you saw me around Elba.'"

"It was a Stokes boy from Samson but who had stayed in Elba. His wife is from Florida." The letter said they would return to the United States in July, next year.

POOR ORIGINAL

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

Miss Tina Kelly, center, was guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Fred Harper, right. Her pedestal tables placed on either side of the French doors held delicate crystal candelabra in which burned tall pink candles. Colonial nosegays of pink carnations were fastened to the base and lent a bridal air to the entrance hall. Antique Chinese candelabra holding pink tapers adorned the living room mantle and in shades ranging from pink to deep rose was on the coffee table.

These decorations formed a background for lovely Miss Tina Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Kelly, of North Augusta, South Carolina, who was guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Fred Harper on Saturday, March 22.

Miss Kelly was a symphony in white and lemon as she greeted the guests who came to meet her. Her lace sheath was sashed in yellow chiffon and topped with brief Elton jacket. Shoes to match the sash completed the outfit, which was complemented by an orchid corsage.

In the dining room a color scheme of pink and silver was carried out. On the buffet an epergne of rose camellias was interspersed with Chinese magnolias and flowering quince. The serving table had a massive silver tray laden down with red, white and pink camellias.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth placed over a pink undershirt and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations, tulle tied with tiny satin bows, and silvered spears. Three branched candelabra burning pink candles were placed at either end of the table and miniature nosegays adorned the corners, dropping their satin streamers to the hem of the cloth. A silver coffee service was placed at one end of the table and Mrs. L. S. Rainer, Sr., presided. At the other end of the table Miss Vivian Harper served punch from a crystal punch bowl.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. W. M. Ringdort, Mrs. Jack Monahan, Miss Barbara Walker of Hartsboro and Miss Sandra Sawyer of New Brunswick. Miss Lillie Harper greeted the guests at the door and Mrs. Wesley Ham and Miss Fannie Harper presided in the reception rooms. Mrs. Harold Deal registered the one hundred and twenty-five guests who called between the hours of four and six. Fred and John Harper and Marion Brunson added a note of interest to the party by their presence.

Mrs. Harper was regal in yellow taffeta fashioned with a deep decollete and belt skirt. A cummerbund of gold, was tied in a flat bow at the back and fell to the hemline. Yellow tuberoses completed the outfit. Miss Kelly and Mr. Will Harper will be married in Augusta on June 28.

THIS IS A NOTE OF THANKS from the Arrangements Committee to all those who helped to make the Crisped Children Clinic such a smoothly run affair. To those who gave of their time by making sandwiches, or cookies, who donated tables, or who acted as hostesses the committee says "Thank You."

A LITTLE BOY was two last Saturday and he celebrated with a really wonderful party for the young fry. "Buddy," son of Capt. and Mrs. L. P. Morrow and grandson of the Lewy Morrows and the H. D. Tillmans' entertained at his paternal grandparents' home at 3:30 in the afternoon.

The refreshment table was centered with a large cake led in pink and green, around which were arranged individual cupcakes similarly led. Each cupcake held one burning candle. Lime punch, was served from a crystal punch bowl surrounded with pastel party baskets filled with Easter candies which were presented to the guests. The mantle and piano were decorated with dolly colored balloons. Tall hats of gold foil and other favors delighted the little people who came "Happy Birthday, Dear Buddy" most enthusiastically.

Invited were: Melanie Carnley, Randy Hendricks, Betty Joyce Ziegler, Tim and Beth Byrd, Dixie and Roy Ellis King, Lee Boyd, Ricky Rainer, Cindy and Susan Stokes, Mark Vaughan, Judy Lee, Heath Bullard, "Booster" Crook, Bulch Whidman, "Duke" Morrow, Courtney Cannon and Claudia and Jerry Morrow, son of the Pat Morrows of Mitchell Field, New York.

One "Bite" of the "Bigger-Digger" Supplies Enough Phosphate to Fertilize 100 Acres of Farm Land

Phosphate is mined from vast surface marine deposits in Florida with the mammoth piece of equipment shown above. As one of the major ingredients in commercial fertilizers, phosphorous is an important plant food because it stimulates root growth and aids the reproductive processes of plants—formation of grain and fruit. After phosphorous ores are mined, concentrated and ground, they are usually treated with acid to make super or triple phosphate materials for greater concentration of P₂O₅ and greater solubility. Then these phosphates are incorporated into the commercial fertilizers you buy. The "Bigger-Digger" pictured, is the largest dragline scoop in the United States, and was built for International Minerals & Chemical Corporation for its large-scale phosphate mining operation near Bartow, Florida.

Easter Flowers Adorn Bible Land of Jordan

One of the world's wildflower paradises is the Bible Land of Jordan where, at Easter time, the hills, the fields of Samaria, and even the barren plains of Jericho and the rocky mountains of Moab abound in a variety of many colored wildflowers, some of which have not even been classified. More than 400 flowers which do not grow elsewhere are to be found in Jordanian plains and in the nearby Syrian desert in springtime, it is said.

Some Jordanian wildflowers have unfamiliar names such as "sword-bills," "hoarhound," "pink flax," meadow saffron. Some flowers that are cultivated in the United States grow wild in Jordan, such as iris, crocus, anemones, tulips, and jasmine.

Gathering wildflowers is one of the springtime pastimes of the women and children of Jordan, who wander through the fields picking huge bunches of multi-colored wildflowers to adorn their homes, or to press and mount on souvenir cards which are highly prized by visitors to Bible Lands.

Mrs. Hutchison and I went to see him last week and found him sitting up and eager to go back to school. ALWAYS ON THE WATCH

Nurses are members of the health team who deserve credit for their unselfish efforts to help the sick. Both hospital and visiting nurses often work long and tireless hours for our benefit.

In our pharmacy we like to cooperate with nurses for the good of their patients. If there is anything we can do to make nurse's task easier one we would welcome the opportunity to help. We believe there is no profession a young girl can prepare for that offers as much spiritual satisfaction as that of a nurse.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By T. C. Self & Joe Wildman

Ball clover in combination with bahia grass appears to be the solution to grass-clover pastures in Coffee County. Ball clover is a reseeding annual legume. It looks similar to white clover and has a growing season comparable to crimson clover, except it has a longer growing season. It furnishes grazing into the early summer months. Ball clover has the advantage of being able to produce seed even though it is heavily grazed during seedling time. It might be said that ball clover cannot be overgrazed with regard to seedling. Ball clover also grows well on good upland. The seedling rate is 2 to 4 pounds per acre. Date of planting is during rains of October or November. Ball clover qualifies for ACP payment under pasture improvements. Seed will be scarce this fall. Those interested should see the Soil Conservation personnel for further information.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Elba will join thousands of other cities across the nation in observing the annual President's Birthday Ball, a movement started several years ago for the benefit of the Warm Springs Infirmary. Paralysis Foundation. The Ball will be held in the New National Guard Armory Friday night. Mr. Almon Strain will be in charge of the committee which has been chosen to sponsor the affair.

A school bus that had been borrowed to transport a group of young people to a dance in Florida Friday night was transformed into a blazing inferno on a Geneva County road when someone lit a match as the bus was taking on gasoline. Several of the young people were seriously injured by burns and lacerations while several more were slightly injured. The bus was a total loss.

Mrs. Forest Talbot was the hostess of the Double Four Bridge Club in her home on Rushing Street Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of a delightful series of games, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jim Whitman, served a salad plate to the following members:
